

Resources for Education and Skill Development in St. Louis Economic Development Clusters

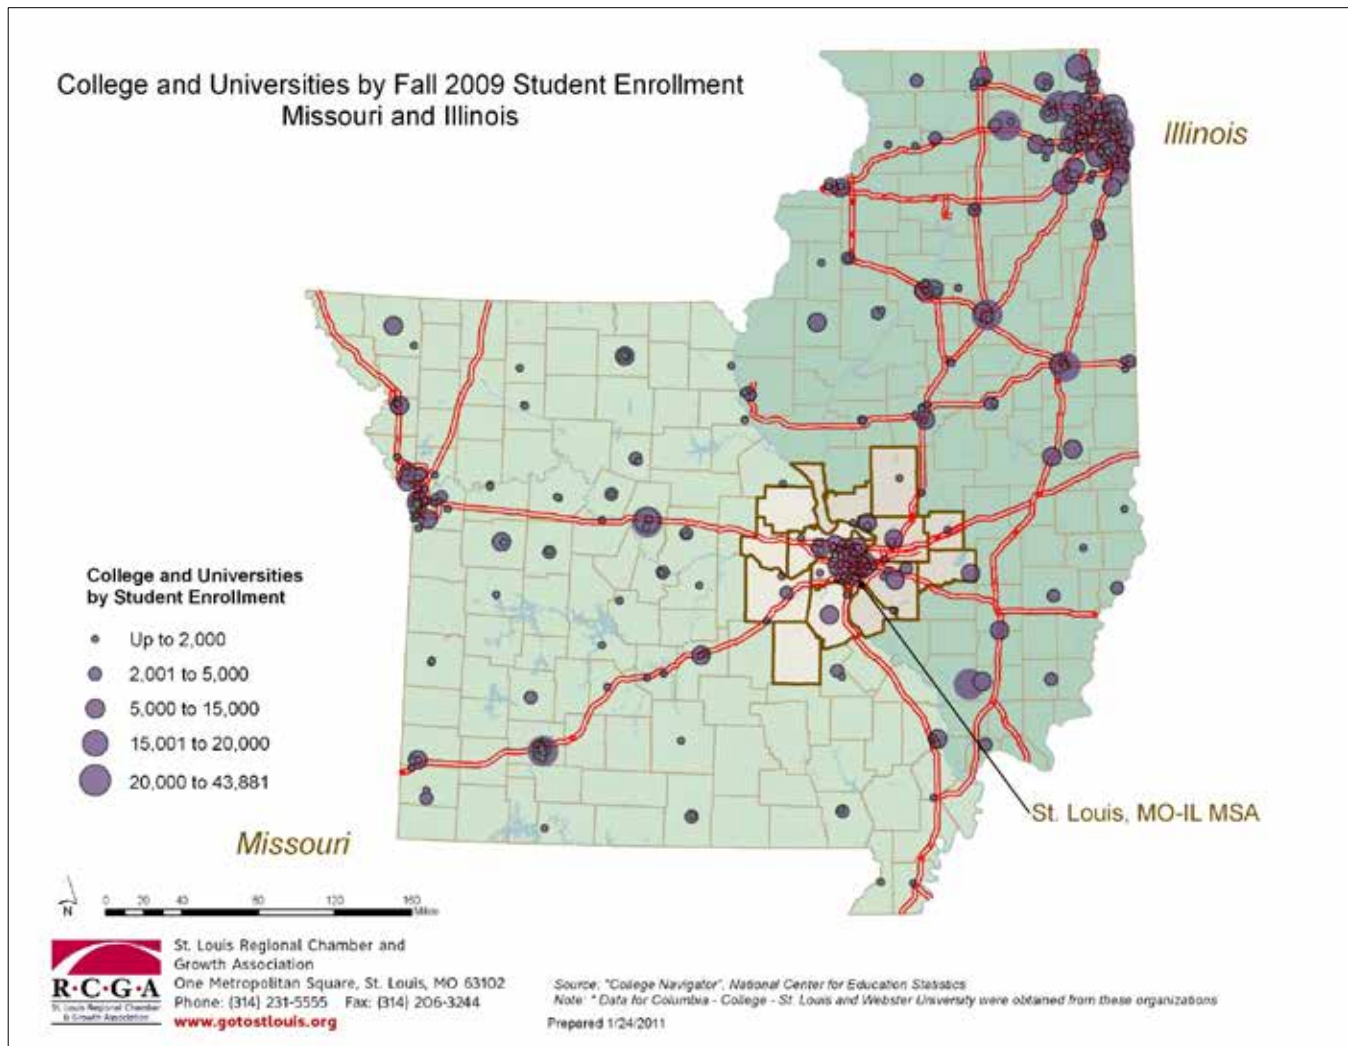

Talent: The Future of Metro St. Louis in the Knowledge Economy – Supplemental Report

June 2011

Introduction

This report is an inventory of academic programs in the St. Louis metro area. Its purpose is to highlight the programs that support three industry clusters: Financial and Information Services; Sustainable Technologies; and Health Science and Services. This inventory does not represent every available academic degree or credential available in the region, however, it shows the breath of educational opportunities St. Louis has to offer. The map shows the geographical distribution of colleges and universities in the St. Louis region (highlighted yellow), Missouri, and Illinois.
